

Proposed Updates to Safety Standards for Toys and Children's Products

This Office proposes adopting up-to-date safety standards promulgated by the relevant standards institutions for toys and some children's products listed in Schedule 2 ("Schedule 2 products") under the Toys and Children's Products Safety Ordinance (Cap. 424) ("the Ordinance"). We are seeking comments on the proposal.

2. The Ordinance stipulates that a person must not manufacture, import or supply a toy or Schedule 2 product unless it complies with all the applicable requirements contained in any one of the safety standards (mostly international standards or standards adopted by major economies) specified in Schedules 1 and 2 respectively to the Ordinance. We keep in view updates to the standards so as to apply up-to-date, operative versions to products supplied in Hong Kong.

3. It has come to our notice that the specified standards for toys and for eight classes of Schedule 2 products, namely (i) "babies' dummies", (ii) "bunk beds for domestic use", (iii) "child safety barriers for domestic use", (iv) "children's cots for domestic use", (v) "children's high chairs and multi-purpose high chairs for domestic use", (vi) "children's paints", (vii) "playpens for domestic use" and (viii) "wheeled child conveyances", have been/will be updated/ amended to new versions as follows -

Toy Standards –

- (a) the existing part of the International Standard "ISO 8124-1:2009 (incorporating Amendment 1:2011 and Amendment 2:2012)" has been updated to "ISO 8124-1:2012", and would be further updated to "ISO 8124-1:2014" within 2014. (If the further updated version is not published in 2014, we intend to apply "ISO 8124-1:2012");
- (b) the existing part of the International Standard "ISO 8124-2:2007" has been updated to "ISO 8124-2:2014";

- (i) the existing part of the European Standard “BS EN 71-5:1993 + A2:2009 BS 5665-5:1993” has been updated to “BS EN 71-5:2013”;
- (j) the existing part of the European Standard “BS EN 71-7:2002” has been updated to “BS EN 71-7:2014”;
- (k) the existing part of the European Standard “BS EN 62115:2005 + A2:2011” has been updated to “BS EN 62115:2005 + A11:2012”; and
- (l) a new part of the European Standard, “BS EN 71-12:2013 Safety of toys – Part 12: N-Nitrosamines and N-nitrosatable substances”, has been published.

Schedule 2 Product Standards –

- (a) three existing parts of the European Standard, “BS EN 1400-1:2002”, “BS EN 1400-2:2002” and “BS EN 1400-3:2002” for babies’ dummies have been updated and consolidated as “BS EN 1400:2013 + A1:2014 Child use and care articles – Soothers for babies and young children – Safety requirements and test methods”;

- (d) two existing parts of the European Standard, “BS EN 716-1:2008” and “BS EN 716-2:2008”, and the existing ASTM Standard “ASTM F1169-11”, for children’s cots for domestic use, have been updated to “BS EN 716-1:2008 + A1:2013”, “BS EN 716-2:2008 + A1:2013” and “ASTM F1169-13” respectively;
- (e) two existing parts of the European Standard, “BS EN 14988-1:2006” and “BS EN 14988-2:2006”, and the existing ASTM Standard “ASTM F404-10”, for children’s high chairs and multi-purpose high chairs for domestic use, have been updated to “BS EN 14988-1:2006 + A1:2012”, “BS EN 14988-2:2006 + A1:2012” and “ASTM F404-14” respectively;
- (f) the existing European Standard “BS EN 71-3:1995 BS 5665-3:1995 (incorporating Amendment No. 1 and Corrigendum No. 1)” and International Standard “ISO 8124-3:2010” for children’s paints have been updated to “BS EN 71-3:2013” and amended by incorporating “Amendment 1:2014” respectively;
- (g) the existing ASTM Standard “ASTM F406-12a” for playpens for domestic use has been updated to “ASTM F406-13”; and
- (h) the existing ASTM Standard “ASTM F833-11” and Joint Australian/ New Zealand Standard “AS/NZS 2088:2009” for wheeled child conveyances have been updated to “ASTM F833-13b” and “AS/NZS 2088:2013” respectively.

4. The table attached at the Annex to this document summarises the major changes introduced by the latest standards^{Note}.

^{Note} The table is prepared for general information only. Interested parties should refer to the standards for the detailed requirements.

5. We intend to apply the updated standards as soon as possible.

6. We have noted that two new parts of the International Standard, “ISO 8124-6:2014” and “ISO/TR 8124-8:2014”, have been published. Considering the diversity of laws and regulations in different countries, ISO 8124-6:2014 only specifies a method for the determination of six types of phthalates (namely DBP, BBP, DEHP, DNOP, DINP and DIDP) in toys and children’s products, without prescribing the requirements on the limits for these phthalates. In this connection, the new Toys and Children’s Products Safety (Additional Safety Standards or Requirements) Regulation (Cap. 424C) has commenced operation in Hong Kong from July 2014, which controls the concentration limits of the above six types of phthalates in certain toys and children’s products. The Regulation does not specify any particular test methods for determining whether a product complies with the relevant sections of the Regulation concerning the phthalate control, so as to provide flexibility for the trade to have a product tested with any commonly used test methods. To retain this flexibility, we do not propose to adopt ISO 8124-6:2014 in the Ordinance.

7. ISO/TR 8124-8:2014 is a technical report that provides guidelines for the determination of the lowest age at which children start playing with specific toys. It can also be used by organizations involved with child play, teachers, etc. as a reference to determine the appropriateness of toys by earliest age. These guidelines are not intended to address specific safety requirements. As this part of the International Standard does not prescribe safety standards or requirements, we also do not propose to adopt it in the Ordinance.

8. We have also noted that a new part of the European Standard, “BS EN 71-13:2014 Safety of toys – Part 13: Olfactory board games, cosmetic kits and gustative games”, has been published. As we understand that some time would be needed for developing the complementary test methods, we do not propose to adopt this part in the Ordinance in this exercise.
